Available on New Brunswick Location Only

The 15-Credit Environmental and Occupational Health Certificate can help you advance your knowledge and skills to address major environmental and occupational health issues facing public health professionals today. Courses explore principles of toxicology, sources of environmental agents, their distribution in various environments, risk assessment methods and workplace health hazards.

THE ENVIRONMENTAL AND OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH CERTIFICATE IS INTENDED FOR:

- ▶ Health department employees;
- ▶ Clinicians;
- ▶ Health and safety specialists;
- ▶ Those working in the environmental and occupational health field; and
- ▶ Those interested in learning about environmental and occupational health.

PROGRAM DESIGN

The schedule for completing the Environmental and Occupational Health Certificate is flexible. You can complete the program in two-three semesters, if desired, or you can plan a schedule for completing the five courses over a two-year period (the maximum timeframe.) The evening schedule makes it convenient for you to continue working or gain experience while earning your Environmental and Occupational Health Certificate. The Certificate courses may also be applied toward a MPH at the Rutgers School of Public Health. (Certificate holders must still apply and be admitted to the MPH program.)

COST

Tuition is governed by the Rutgers University and is subject to change annually. Please visit <http://sph.rutgers.edu/admissions> to confirm current tuition rates and fees.
