

Applied Practice Experience and Practicum Capstone Credit

Matriculated MPH students who are also residents in preventive medicine, occupational medicine, or general preventive medicine programs completing their academic year in the School of Public Health may satisfy the MPH PRAC 0715: Applied Practice Experience (0-credits) and PRAC 0716: Practicum Capstone (3-credits) requirements in conjunction with their Resident Practicum Experience. Students must initiate the application process for PRAC 0715 and PRAC 0716 credit by providing the information requested and returning this form to the Office of Practice after obtaining appropriate signatures. Approved PRAC 0715 and PRAC 0716 credit will be noted on the transcript after students complete, at a minimum, nine months of their residency practicum year, and submit all necessary deliverables for both PRAC 0715 and PRAC 0716.

I wish to apply for PRAC 0715: Applied Practice Experience and PRAC 0716: Practicum Capstone Credit.

Are you a resident in a preventive medicine, occupational medicine, or general preventive medicine program accredited by the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education? Yes No

Please identify your residency program:

_____ School/Institution

_____ Residency Program

_____ City/State

_____ Date of Residency

Do you understand that the PRAC 0715: Applied Practice Experience (APE) Credit is awarded in lieu of conducting a separate APE project; however, you still need to complete the APE deliverables, which includes submitting an APE Learning Agreement, two APE work products/deliverables and two APE Work Product/Deliverable Assessment Forms? Yes No

Do you understand that the PRAC 0716: Practicum Capstone Credit is awarded in lieu of conducting a separate Capstone project; however, you still need to complete the Practicum Capstone deliverables, which includes submitting a Practicum Capstone Learning Agreement, final paper on your residency practicum, providing a presentation during Practice Day, submitting a Practicum Capstone Deliverable Assessment form, and completing the online self-assessment of competencies? Yes No

Check here that a letter from your Residency Director noting that you have completed, at a minimum, the first nine months of the residency practicum year, is attached (Required).

PRAC 0715: Applied Practice Experience can be noted as completed and three (3) credits are approved to be awarded as PRAC 0716: Practicum Capstone for Resident Practicum Experience.
